

The public is invited to review the currently proposed Costa Mesa district maps

The most recent draft maps for redrawing Costa Mesa City Council Districts are available for public review here or click here to view this slideshow.

The last day to submit a map for review is Thursday Jan. 27.

The new City district maps will define the six district borders for electing Council Members for the next 10 years.

The next public hearing for City Council to review and consider the draft maps is Feb. 15.

For more information about the process, how you can be involved, and the schedule of events, check out at www.redistrictcostamesa.org.